Annual Museum Day features traditional crafts

Enjoy an afternoon of watching local artisans demonstrate traditional crafts such as flint-knapping, knot-tying, bead-working, spinning, quilting and soap-making at the Dubois Museum's annual Museum Day from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday, July 18.

Dubois artists Tom Lucas and Gary Keimig will demonstrate "quick draw" painting techniques, and their paintings will be auctioned at Museum Day to raise money for a new museum building.

Homestead stew, simmered in a cast-iron pot over the coals of a campfire, is a Museum Day tradition. Enjoy a bowl with fry bread and honey butter free of charge! Homestead stew and fry bread will be available at noon for as long as they last.

Delicious homemade baked goods will be also be available at a Museum Day bake sale beginning at 11 a.m. Proceeds from the bake sale will also go toward a new museum building.
